General Notes

All the software configurations listed in this document have been qualified with the following products: Veritas InfoScale™ Enterprise 7.2 for Windows®, Veritas InfoScale™ Storage 7.2 for Windows®, Veritas InfoScale™ Availability 7.2 for Windows®, Veritas InfoScale™ Foundation 7.2 for Windows®. The following features are also supported: Volume Replicator, Dynamic Multi-Pathing, FlashSnap, and Cluster for Microsoft® Failover Clustering.

Since the number of combinations is quite large, it is not possible to test them all for compatibility. If a particular service pack or version of an application is not listed as specifically tested by Veritas, it may work fine, but has not been explicitly tested with the Veritas InfoScale for Windows products. Software applications that are not on the Veritas InfoScale for Windows Software Compatibility List (SCL) are provided "commercially reasonable effort" support only. Commercially reasonable effort support allows for escalations based on unqualified software, but if a problem is determined to be software-specific, the problem is not guaranteed to be resolved.

The information in this document will be updated as necessary, so subscribe to it to get automatic notifications of any changes. In addition, if a particular platform or application is not currently listed as being supported, a request for additions to this list can be made through submitting a suggestion or idea for Veritas products: https://www.veritas.com/support/en\_US/article.000095704.

For a listing of the supported third-party multi-path software, see the Veritas InfoScale for Windows Hardware Compatibility List (HCL).

1. Veritas InfoScale Availability for Windows, which is a part of Veritas InfoScale Enterprise for Windows, requires that the nodes are part of a Microsoft Active Directory domain. However, there are some scenarios that are supported without Active Directory and more information is found in the technote at: <http://www.veritas.com/docs/000086691>.
2. Veritas InfoScale Storage for Windows and Veritas InfoScale Enterprise for Windows can be used with Network Appliance storage arrays. However, support for Network Appliance storage software products such as SnapDrive™, SnapMirror, and SnapManager for Exchange is available only with Veritas InfoScale Availability for Windows. There is no support for these applications for use with Veritas InfoScale Storage for Windows or Veritas InfoScale Enterprise for Windows due to the lack of dynamic disk support with these Network Appliance applications at this time.
3. If upgrading from an older SF, SFW HA, or InfoScale product version on Windows Server 2008 R2 to a higher Windows Server version and InfoScale 7.2, first upgrade the operating system and then upgrade the InfoScale product.

1. Veritas NetBackup (NBU) snapshots and backups are not supported for Hyper-V virtual machines residing on Veritas InfoScale managed disk groups in a Microsoft Failover Clustering environment.

2. NBU 7.x wrongly creates an IP resource using the IPv4 type definition when configuring a NetBackup IPv6 master server cluster. For more information, refer to the technote at: <http://www.veritas.com/docs/000014830>. If the resource "NetBackup_server-NBU" is not created after a NetBackup IPv6 master cluster installation is completed, please contact NBU technical support.

3. The NBU 7.x Software Compatibility Lists (SCL): (<http://www.veritas.com/docs/000006087>) supersedes this SCL for supportability.
4. NBU does not yet support Bare Metal Restore (BMR) on hosts running SFW\SFWHA 6.x and higher.
5. NBU does not support file recovery from a VMware VM backup image if the volume of VM is managed by InfoScale Storage.
6. If NBU backs up the VMware VM on which Veritas InfoScale Storage is installed, the backup job fails as it fails to quiesce the virtual machine. This issue occurs if you install a third-party backup agent on the VM. Refer to the solution from VMware at: https://kb.vmware.com/selfservice/microsites/search.do?language=en\_US&cmd=displayKC&externalId=1018194.
