

DATA RISK MANAGEMENT

The State of the Market—Cyber to Compliance

Although UK organisations have experienced fewer successful ransomware attacks than the global average, respondents still rank data security as their greatest risk. Data security also leads the list of increasing risk levels—and by a higher margin than any other market surveyed.

Data security is the greatest risk to UK organisations.

Respondents rated their top risks as:

81%

report actual damage, such as financial and reputational, from the risks they face.

UK organisations experience fewer successful ransomware attacks than the global trend.

51%

of respondents experienced a successful ransomware attack in which an attacker gained access to the system.

49%

have experienced data loss from events other than ransomware.

Average Percentage of Data Lost per Environment

17%

On-Premises Data Centres

16%

Public Cloud Environments

16%

Private Cloud Environments

16%

Edge Environments

Organisations have responded by increasing data protection budgets and staffing.

Average budget increase for all environments measured.
(on-premises, private cloud, public cloud)

21 People

Average staffing increase of data protection and data security teams.

Believe they now have adequate staffing to keep their organisation secure.

Risk levels continue to increase.

Over the last 12 months, respondents report the highest increases in:

70% Data Security

68% Economic Uncertainty

67% Talent Shortage

Most organisations underestimate the task ahead.

Overall risk:
More than half considered their organisation to be currently at risk.

Individual risk factors:
Nearly all indicated that their organisation experiences risk.

For some organisations, the level of risk will be too much.

13%

of organisations say the level of risk will put them out of business.

Read the UK Report

Get the Global Report >